Children are acknowledged and rewarded for their demonstration of school values through weekly awards and positive behaviour is reinforced with the use of ASPIRE tickets and the weekly ASPIRE market.

SHARED EXPECTATIONS:

Expectations of the School:

School expectations are consistent across the school for all staff and students. All members of the school community clearly understand their 'jobs'. School expectations are delivered in the following ways:

- Clear and focused Learning Intentions and Success Criteria are portrayed to the students prior to each learning session and are reflected in teacher work programs. These Learning Intentions along with our "Your Job, My Job, Our Job" enable students to understand the expectations and goals for every session.
- The school vision statement and "Your Job, My Job, Our Job", as well as our Rethink and Reflect program clearly states the school's values, which are well known by staff and students. Consistent teaching of the school's values ensures students understand positive behaviours in order to create good learning and respect other students right to learn. These above-mentioned programs enable all staff members to model good learning and social behaviours.
- All teachers and staff members undertake professional development throughout the year, which is expected to be incorporated within all classrooms by teachers to ensure students receive a relevant and challenging learning curriculum.
- Consistent and thorough teaching practices are conducted throughout the whole school, which are goal-related, depending on students' areas of need.
- All learning hubs plan together, which enables consistent teaching across units. Planning is based on student assessment, student areas of need and Victorian Curriculum. Planning in units is documented in term planners that are used by all teachers to plan their work programs. All planning is completed in a collaborative manner and stored as live documents on Office 365 to be shared across the school.
- Assessments are used to establish new learning goals and teaching.

- Morwell Central Primary School offers learning for all students through targeting students with varied needs with the use of Individual learning plans, varied expectations, small group work, teacher/students conferences, explicit teaching and ongoing assessment.
- Using our School Values to encourage positive attitudes and behaviour.

Expectations of the Students:

Morwell Central Primary School is committed to providing the necessary support to ensure our students are supported intellectually, emotionally and socially. The Student Wellbeing team plays a significant role in developing and implementing strategies which help identify students in need of support and enhance student wellbeing. Morwell Central Primary School will utilise the following information and tools to identify students in need of extra emotional, social or educational support:

- personal, health and learning information gathered upon enrolment and while the student is enrolled
- attendance records
- academic performance
- observations by school staff such as changes in engagement, behaviour, self-care, social connectedness and motivation
- behaviour data
- attendance, detention and suspension data
- engagement with families
- self-referrals or referrals from peers

PREVENTATIVE STATEMENT

Morwell Central Primary School is very proud of its achievements in building a strong foundation for our positive school culture. It is based on a belief that all students have the right to be provided a safe and secure learning environment which provides meaningful opportunities to meet their personal and educational potential. A key component of the school's approach to prevention is teaching positive behaviours and using logical consequences to address appropriate and inappropriate behaviour. The school is dedicated to upholding a core set of School values where Acceptance, Support, Persistence, Individual Responsibility, Respect and Excellence are an integral part of all interactions. These values have been used in conjunction with the Berry Street Education Model, explicit teaching of social skills and the use of Restorative Practice, which are all used in a comprehensive way both inside and outside of the classroom.

Our positive school culture has a solid foundation on the belief that student engagement is the basis for learning. Morwell Central Primary School staff believe that quality teaching programs encourage lifelong learning. We endeavour to engage all students to reach their full potential through an Inquiry based learning approach that provides an environment that encourages higher order thinking. We foster an environment where the students are encouraged to take ownership for their learning, through goal setting, self-reflection and self-assessment.

The school also supports the school community through building relationships with outside agencies to support individual student and family needs. This collaboration includes but is not restricted to community members, professionals and educators such as Latrobe Community Health, Berry Street, The Orange Door, Quantum, Save the Children and Police in Schools.

PREVENTATIVE APPROACH:

- Attendance
Morwell Central Primary School understands that full attendance is a key to engagement and maximises every student's ability to learn and our teachers' ability to teach effectively. The school has actively embraced the "EVERY DAY COUNTS" approach and closely monitors student attendance with effective and regular follow-up to parents.
- Rethink & Reflect
Morwell Central Primary School uses Restorative Practices to encourage engagement, and build pride, respect and responsibility in each individual student. This practice is called Rethink and Reflect and is used in the classroom and out in the yard and is the basis for respectful communication, relationships and how to respond to behavioural issues.
- Professional Learning
Teacher Professional Learning is given high priority at Morwell Central Primary School to ensure the strategies and approaches adopted are implemented with integrity. All teaching staff are members of a professional learning team which is aligned to our school strategic plan. The focus is on student learning, student engagement, well-being and student transitions and pathways.
- Positive behaviours and Respectful Relationships
Morwell Central Primary School requires the active involvement of parents in the learning and behaviour of each student. It seeks to foster this cooperative approach with parents through first day interviews, reports, parent-teacher interviews, phone calls, meetings, use of diaries/communication books, email and the school newsletter and website.

In encouraging and building this cooperative approach it is acknowledged there will be behaviours and events that occur that compromise this ideal. When this occurs Morwell Central Primary School will use a restorative approach to repair damaged relationships with individuals and groups. Where appropriate the school will inform and involve parents in these processes.

The following restorative approach will be used -

1. What happened?
2. What School values did you not use?
3. What are you feeling?
4. Who was hurt?
5. What could I do to try and fix things?
6. What would be the best thing to try?

A Staged Response

- This approach will be conducted in an informal way for minor incidents and be embedded in classroom teaching and learning.
- Serious or major incidents will require a more formal restorative session that involves the Principal and/or all persons affected in the incident, and documentation.
- Where a restorative approach has previously been conducted but the behaviour continues, the school will establish a Student Support Group to devise strategies and approaches to address the behaviour. This may include intervention from specialist services and external agencies in the local community.

Restorative practices are intended to move the focus away from a punitive consequence that is based on the establishment of wrong doing. Rather, it seeks to value and support those involved so they feel empowered to take positive action to address the situation and move forward. Restorative practice is about being respectful of every member of our school community, encouraging responsible behaviour and actions and ensuring that personal pride and dignity is maintained.

Efforts are directed at promoting strengths, wellbeing and positive developmental outcomes through the following primary prevention programs:

- Effective use of Junior School Council and Leadership Roles
- Welfare Officer
- EAL Support
- Koorie Educator
- Ongoing management processes – central behaviour data base, student survey and explicit teaching of social skills and expectations

Behavioural expectations of students are grounded in our school's Statement of Values/Student Code of Conduct.

At Morwell Central Primary School students are encouraged to take ownership of their learning and are provided with the opportunity to actively contribute and engage with their learning within a safe and secure environment.

Our school culture emphasises the need for mutual respect. Building relationships and implementing preventative approaches with students, parents and other key stakeholders underpins this approach.

Strategies implemented at Morwell Central Primary School include:

- Teachers and students defining and developing school expectations and consequences that reflect our beliefs through "Your Job, My Job, Our Job"
- School-wide classroom and yard consequences to be dealt with in a restorative manner, using the Rethink and Reflect strategy, aimed at promoting fairness and repairing any damage to relationships or property
- School-wide process for gathering and recording behavioural incidents
- Identifying specific issues, hotspots and types of behaviour. Data collated and tracked.
- Coaching/Mentoring
- Encouraging student participation and student voice through Student forums
- Engaging proactively with parents/carers
- Making links with the local community.

Disciplinary measures may be used as part of a staged response to challenging behaviour in combination with other engagement and support strategies to address the range of factors that may have contributed to the student's behaviour.

Disciplinary measures that may be applied include:

- Rethink and Reflect approach
- Giving a student a warning that their behaviour is inappropriate, and an opportunity to cease/change the behaviour

- <https://www2.education.vic.gov.au/pal/restraint-seclusion/policy>

In line with Ministerial Order 1125, no student aged 8 or younger will be expelled without the approval of the Secretary of the Department of Education and Training.

The Principal of Morwell Central Primary School is responsible for ensuring all suspensions and expulsions are recorded on CASES21.

Corporal punishment is prohibited by law and will not be used in any circumstance at our school.

RETHINK & REFLECT: BEHAVIOUR CHANGE MODEL

At Morwell Central Primary School, we believe everyone has the right to fully participate in an educational environment that is safe, supportive and inclusive. Underpinning all behaviours within the school will be our core ASPIRE values of Acceptance, Support, Persistence, Individual Responsibility, Respect and Excellence.

Teachers and students will develop classroom behaviours and expectations through collaborative discussions about teacher and student jobs. This type of collaborative discussion alleviates implementing rules and ensures everyone is responsible for their own behaviour and choices.

Morwell Central Primary will implement a Restorative Practice Model to help students take responsibility for their actions and choices. Students will work with staff to 'Rethink and Reflect' on their actions. Students involved in behaviour incidents will be given the opportunity to tell their side of the story and discuss how they think things can be fixed. Consequences may be required after a Rethink and Reflect conversation. A large part of the restorative process is building relationships with students. Students will be supported to self-regulate their behaviour and provided with strategies to manage their learning needs. Students making good choices will be given ASPIRE positive behaviour tickets, which can be redeemed for activities of their choice from a student-compiled catalogue.

By practicing Restorative Approaches in social interactions, students develop self-discipline, self-control, self-esteem, self-confidence, maturity, respect, empathy, independence and responsibility. Restorative Approaches which include a Rethink and Reflect conversations will run in conjunction with our ASPIRE values program and alongside our classroom expectations. ASPIRE forms the basis for the values we would like our students to have while Restorative Approaches focus on how we would like them to behave.

Developing classroom expectations:

- At the beginning of each year teachers and students will develop homeroom and Learning Hub behaviours and expectations through collaborative discussions around teacher and student jobs. This type of collaborative discussion elevates implementing rules and punishment and ensures everyone is responsible for their own behaviour and choices. All homerooms and Learning Hubs will display the agreed understandings in a "Your Job, My Job, Our Job" chart.
- Once agreed jobs have been decided upon, natural consequences for not completing these jobs needs to be established. For example, if a student's job is to complete prepared worked to the best of his/her ability, then a natural consequence of not doing this would be that he/she will not learn. As it is the teacher's job to help students learn they will need to step in and make decisions for the student. Blame and fault can be talked about to show the students it is not the teacher's fault they stepped in and did their job and it is unfair to blame them because of his/her choice.
- Agreed jobs and consequences need to be clearly visible to students and referred to continuously. When addressing students' behaviour teachers will operate in a positive manner and wherever possible use natural consequences. Teachers need to refer to the "Your Job, My Job, Our Job" chart when responding to inappropriate behaviour.

For example, if a student is talking over you may say "When you are talking John, it makes my job hard. Please stop." Or "Are you doing your job, John?" Or "John, what is your job when I am explaining instructions?" etc...

- As a way of managing student behaviour and developing social skills throughout the year, teachers and students will discuss and explore core ASPIRE Values.

Classroom Behaviour Processes - must be linked to the "Your Job, My Job, Our Job" expectations.

• Step 1

1st Redirection - Student's name is recorded on the Classroom Opportunity proforma.

The first time a student causes a disruption and is given a verbal redirection by the teacher, his/her name is recorded on the proforma as a warning to stop inappropriate behaviour and encourage them to get back on task. The behaviour is noted on the proforma. A "Ready to Learn" strategy is offered to the student.

- Use reminders about job expectations to redirect behaviour.

For example:

- "Are you doing your job?"
- "You are making my job hard because...." etc.

• Step 2

2nd Redirection - 2nd entry on the Classroom Opportunity proforma.

The second time a student causes a disruption, this is recorded on the proforma, together with the behaviour. Redirect the student with self-regulation techniques and actions from their "Ready to Learn Plan."

- Use reminders about job expectation and choices to redirect behaviour.

For example:

- "I now have to do my job and give you a choice from your 'Ready to Learn Plan' to support your learning and help you to self-regulate"
- "You have already had one redirection so I am going to have to start making choices for you"
- "Now I'm going to have to take responsibility for your learning..." etc

• Step 3 – Relocation

The third time a student misbehaves he/she will be relocated to another homeroom outside of their own Learning Hub where they will complete a Rethink and Reflect Restorative Sheet. (Please refer to relocation homeroom list.) The classroom teacher fills out a relocation sheet explaining student's behaviour, and attaches the Classroom Opportunity proforma.

ENGAGING WITH FAMILIES:

The School values parent / carer input into its operations and curriculum offerings and seeks feedback through the Parent Opinion survey, and from parent representatives on School Council. The School Council provides financial assistance and encouragement to the Parents' Association in our efforts to build a sense of community.

The school will support families to engage in their child's learning and build their capacity as active learners. It provides an environment that welcomes all parents/carers and is responsive to them as partners in learning.

The school will create successful partnerships with parents/carers and families by:

- ensuring all parents/carers are aware of the school's Student Wellbeing and Engagement Policy
- conducting effective school-to-home and home-to-school communications
- providing opportunities to enable parents/carers and students to contribute

- involving families with homework and other curriculum-related activities
- involving families as participants in school decision-making
- coordinating resources and services from the community for families, students and the school
